NOW CABINET IS DEADLOCKED IN COAL CRISIS

6 Hour Conference Fails to Clear Air on New Wage.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—(Special)—Cabinet government had a hard time with the coal crisis today.

With operators and miners deadlocked in their strike dispute, the cabinet tonight was in the same fit after a hours of strenuous deliberation on the terms of a settlement to be urged upon the disputants in the great industrial struggle which daily becomes more threatening to the welfare of the country.

Table thus far to reach an agreement, the cabinet adjourned until 11 o'clock tomorrow, with no announcement to make beyond an expression of hope for conclusive results.

No Appeal to Wilson Yet.

President Wilson, it is understood, has not yet been appealed to, but the cabinet, it was intimated, may have to call for help from the chief executive before any decision can be reached.

From the best information obtainable the political aspect of the situation, as represented by the interests of the consumer, is the principal stumbling block.

The telegram which former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo injected into the struggle yesterday, declaring that the operators could well afford to absorb all the burden of a miners' wage increase, also is believed to have had some effect.

Boys of Cabinet Contention.

From unofficial sources the status of the situation was outlined as follows:

The cabinet is in disagreement on the amount of wage increase to be offered to the miners, the difference being one of judgment as to the actual amount necessary to meet the increased cost of living since 1917.

That Secretary of Labor Wilson, finding one group which has proposed an increase of $1.61 per cent to the miners not fair to all concerned, is strenuously opposing a lower figure recommended by Attorney General Palmer, Director of Railways Hines, and Fuel Administrator Garfield.

That the dispute over figures in view, in addition to the cost of living increase, the important factor of the public and whether it should be called upon to bear any of the burden through an authorized increase in the price of illuminating coal.

Object to Gouging Public.

That Dr. Garfield and Mr. Hines believe the proposed wage increase should be absorbed jointly by the operators and the public, the operators to yield a percentage of their war profits.

That some cabinet members strenuously oppose any authorized increase in the price of coal to the consumer, holding with Mr. McAdoo, that it is unnecessary.

Notwithstanding the silence of all cabinet members and their advisers, it was apparent that the dispute was one involving a combination of economics and politics.

Secretary Lane and Daniels were advised to agree with Secretary Wilson that the miners are entitled to an increase of 31 per cent, and that that could be absorbed by the operators' war profits without it being necessary for an advance in the price of coal.

Views of Others Unknown.

Just where other members stood on this issue could not be definitely ascertained, but that there was disagreement was not denied.

It was 2:30 o'clock before the meeting adjourned. Secretary Wilson was the first to leave.

"There is nothing to be said," was only response to the newspaper reporters.

Secretary Lane and Secretary Daniels followed, both noncommunicative. "The Dr. Garfield," said Attorney General Palmer.

Nothing to Say, Lansing Says.

"There will be no statement to-day," was the reply of Secretary Lane, who promised.

"I can say absolutely nothing," Dr. Garfield said.

"Did you reach any conclusion?"

"Only the conclusion to adjourn the meeting," was his response.

Monday, did not participate, having been unable to attend to his duties for several weeks, on account of illness. Like Mr. Wilkerson and Mr. Funk, he was the appointment of the Republican administration, and normally these three control the commission's action.

Five Cent Fare Too Small.

In detailing the reasons for its decision the board sets forth that the surface lines "are entitled to a 7 cent operating expense depreciation, and a reasonable return on the investment, about $46,000,000 a year."

"With a 5 cent fare," it continues, "these companies will earn at the rate of about $37,700,000 a year, or more than $5,000,000 less than they are entitled to earn, in any aspect of this case. On the basis of a 6 cent fare the companies will earn at the annual rate of $45,000,000. On the basis of a 7 cent fare the companies will earn at the annual rate of about $52,500,000."

Need of Average of 6¢.

"It is plain therefore that the difference to be expected with the order of April 25, 1919, and Aug. 6, 1919, were made. The first denied the companies permission to raise fares to 7 cents; the second sanctioned the increase after their employees had gone on strike and obtained pay increases of $8,750,000 annually, leads to an allowance to the companies of a return which will be represented by an average rate of approximately six and one-fourth cents per passenger."

"In prescribing a plan which will produce this result, it is fair and equitable that considerations should be given to the regular patrons of these companies, who make daily use of transportation over the lines in connection with their regular business."

Outline of New Rates.

"After carefully considering the evidence and the results of the various ticket arrangements which have been established in various cities, we have reached the conclusion that the results stated can be accomplished with out infliction to the companies by the establishment of a 7 cent cash fare, and by making provision for the sale of tickets at places convenient to the regular patrons of the companies, at the price of ten tickets for 65 cents, and for lower ticket books of fifty tickets for $3."

"In formulating the plan consideration has been given to the fact that experience in other large cities shows that where there is a substantial differential in favor of purchasers of tickets at a very high percentage of buying cash fares."

"These percentages range from 65 per cent to 93 per cent, and it is doubtful whether, under the plans hereinafter provided, the companies will receive an average fare of more than 64 cents."

Major Assails Ruling.

Major Thompson, informed of the ruling, assailed it vigorously.

"It is camouflage," he said. "We'll go right on with our fight for a 5 cent fare. From the start we never expected aid or cooperation from the public utilities commission, which is an apointive body not directly responsible to the public."

"Various government officials whose impressions may forecast the attitude of the public utilities commission in its reply to the American plan have declared as inexplicable the action of the United States in demanding the release of Mr. Jenkins when Mexican justice as represented by the Puebla authorities has not been able to reach a decision as to his guilt or innocence."

MEXICO SENATE BALKS CARRANZA IN JENKINS CASE

Then It Asks Him What He Will Do; No Action in Washington.

Mexico, City, Nov. 25.—[United News]—In a secret session today the Mexican senate named a committee to investigate the "international situation" brought on by the Jenkins case. The senate asked for information regarding the imprisoned American consular agent.

The senate voted to support President Carranza in whatever action he takes.

The apathetic attitude of the press was broken this afternoon when El Universal issued an extra featuring news from Washington that "the United States was considering intervention."

To Reply to U. S. Today.

Mexico, City, Nov. 25.—[By the Associated Press.]—There was a rumor in newspaper circles this evening that the Mexican government's answer to the American note demanding the release of Consular Agent Jenkins would be given Wednesday. The American embassy announces that it has received no intimation to this effect.

At the embassy it was stated tonight that no word had been received indicating that Mr. Jenkins had been set free.

Officials at Puebla continue their investigation of the case of William O. Jenkins, United States consular agent, witness being produced today to testify as to the alleged intimacy between Mr. Jenkins and his alleged abductors, Federico Cordova and the latter's aid, Utrera.

Mr. Jenkins refuses to give bail, for which he is being detained in quarters, as that would insure his immediate release, requested by the American note to the Mexican government, and at the same time permit the Puebla authorities to proceed in a legal way to complete the investigation.

Various government officials whose impressions may forecast the attitude of the public utilities commission in its reply to the American plan have declared as inexplicable the action of the United States in demanding the release of Mr. Jenkins when Mexican justice as represented by the Puebla authorities has not been able to reach a decision as to his guilt or innocence.

NO U. S. DECISION

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—[Special]—With six days elapsed without compliance by Carranza with the demands of the United States, that he release the American consular agent, William O. Jenkins, immediately, the president's cabinet this morning discussed further procedure against the Mexican.

No decision on a course of action was reached, although it was learned that the cabinet considered the possibility of dispatching a second note to Carranza if no reply is received from him by tomorrow night. It was proposed that the second note should be made categorical ultimatum containing a time limit on compliance with the demand, in default of which diplomatic relations with Mexico would be severed.

The controversy is rapidly approaching the stage of a showdown, in which it will be disclosed whether the administration means business or is merely bluffing. There is ample evidence that Carranza believes the administration bluffed him, as he replied imperiously to President Wilson's note of July 22 that there would be a change of American policy toward Mexico unless outrages upon Americans ceased. The outrages continued. Then the state department called on Carranza to release Jenkins even if the Mexican government were compelled to ransom the consul. Carranza replied, flatly refusing to pay any ransom for any American.

OBEY TREATY TO LETTER IS WORD SENT TO BERLIN

Clemenceau Refuses to Deviate; German Envoy Leaves.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—[By the Associated Press.]—A wireless message from Berlin gives the text of a stern note sent by the president of the peace conference, sent to the chairman of the German delegation to Versailles refusing to deviate from the terms of the peace treaty in favor of German prisoners who are employed in the work of reconstruction in devastated northern France.

Referring to the brutal treatment meted out to the populations of this district under the German occupation, M. Clemenceau is quoted as saying:

"The deepest sentiments of the human heart have been so outraged by the German officials that they cannot agree to grant the favor you request."

The note sets forth that Germany's military delayed the performance of the armistice terms, and instances the sinking of the German warships in Scapa Flow, the delay in the delivery of German ships, Germany's Baltic policy, and the anti-entente propaganda in Alsace and the world at large, and declares:

"We owe nothing to Germany except the precise fulfillment of the provisions of the peace treaty, accepted by Germany."

Germany Is Bally.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Surprise at the departure of Dr. Simson, head of the plenipotentiaries sent by Germany to this city in connection with the armistice peace conference, was noted by the German delegation at Versailles, headed by Kurt von Lersner, head of the German delegation at Versailles, by the supreme council.

If the treaty of Versailles is not put into force by Dec. 1, the note adds, the responsibility will lie with the German government, as the departure of Dr. Simson inevitably delays further conferences which must be held. Dr. von Lersner is asked to state what are the intentions of the German government.

It was learned today that Von Lersner sent a letter to the conference last Friday to the effect that the head of the plenipotentiaries had become convinced that he must consult the German government regarding the protocol.

The Von Lersner letter protested against the question of the repatriation of prisoners again being bound up with that of putting the treaty into effect.

Hint Germany Is Insincere.

Premier Clemenceau reported Saturday that Von Lersner had asked him a question if the treaty could be put into force on Dec. 1, owing to the German government's action, although that government had claimed the contents of the protocol since Nov. 1.

The delay, said M. Clemenceau, would be regrettable, as it might raise doubt of the sincerity of Germany's intentions regarding the execution of the engagements made in the armistice and the peace treaty.

"The recent action of the senators in failing to ratify the peace treaty did not represent the spirit of the country."

PRINCE FORGETS COUSIN KAISER HAS BEEN 'FIRED'

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—[United News.]—Prince Friedrich Leopold, the kaiser's cousin, is demanding a coal ration equivalent to that doled out for a total of 164 families of three persons each. As a result he is in trouble again with the police force.

He clashed with the authorities in the town of Klein-Glienicke when he demanded 8,000 centners of coal, declaring that necessary to heat his house and run his lighting plant.

The mayor ordered that the prince cut down materially on his demands, in view of the shortage of fuel.

Editors Warn Readers to Tie Their Tongues Pending Action.

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—[By the Associated Press.]—Delayed. —Theodor Wolff, editor in chief of the Berliner Tageblatt, and Georg Bernhard, political writer of the Vossische Zeitung, are leading the efforts of the German press to prevent the cabinet members from having a vote on the peace treaty.

The Lowden water plan as announced at the last session of the cabinet, is not satisfactory to the war department engineers. This was announced by Col. Harry Taylor, head of the river and harbor division, following a conference with Illinois state officials. Col. Taylor said he would recommend to Secretary of War Baker that he permit the waterway to be opened for the construction of the waterway.

WATCH 6 ROADS, SCORE OF TOWNS, FOR J. M. MILES

Fleeing Bunker's Trail Is Lost for Time at Galesburg.

BY CHARLES A. SLOAN.
Galesburg, Ill., Nov. 25. [Special.]

In virtually every small town between Chicago and Kansas City, on overland routes tonight are searching for James M. Miles, absconding former vice president of the Standard Trust and Savings bank of Chicago, who stampeded late last week.

The last definite report of his movements came from Chillicothe, Ill., where Miles is said to have bought a ticket to this city. Three searchers men in Chillicothe identified him from his picture as published in the TRIBUNE.

One station agent and three baggage-men in Galesburg were just as positive that no man answering his description had left the Chillicothe train here.

Left Dixon Monday.

Miles left Dixon, Ill., Monday morning, as has been reported. But he didn't leave in a taxicab for Peoria. What means of conveyance he did use has not yet been discovered, but the taxicab in which he was reported to have been turned up in Peoria before midnight last night, with its original passenger.

The cab was driven by I. L. Watts of the Watts Livery company of Dixon. His passenger was a salesman, Ed Murphy.

After spending the night at the Plaza hotel Watts and Murphy returned to Dixon early this morning.

At the Santa Fe station in Chillicothe the night crew were still discussing the disappearance of Miles.

Two were there who saw the man believed to be Miles. Their descriptions of him tallied to a dot with that set broadcast by the Chicago police, and when his picture was produced, it was identified by three, and tentatively by the fourth.

Talked to Dugan.

Henry T. Dugan, special agent of the Santa Fe, with headquarters at Topeka, Kas., now detailed to watching the man, made his rounds.

He was calling heavily and was very dark. Dugan said Miles entered the station, removed his hat, mopped his brow nervously, removed his hat again, and stepped up to the ticket window.

"A ticket to Galesburg," he said.

Dugan called Lawrence McClure, night ticket agent, who passed the man through the window.

"Dollar fifty-four," said Lawrence.

Miles pulled out two $1 bills, receiving the change in silence. For the moment he remained at the window, but when he turned to the train, he dashed out and climbed aboard.

"Well, then off Chillicothe at 8:50," he said. It arrived in Galesburg at 11:12 without stopping between the towns.

Doubtful Presence in Galesburg.

Ticket agent and baggage-man at the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe depot say that no man of that description left the train here. So says the night policeman, who was also on the platform. Galesburg police officers show no signature resembling Miles' handwriting. There was not a single out of town trip made that night by Galesburg taxicabs, that the Givers remembered. At the Burlington station, the only other railroad, the man was told that no one answering the description had purchased a ticket on any of the early morning trains.

The interurban lines to Monmouth and Alton were not operating until early morning, and conductors stated that they never saw one of Miles' description as a passenger.

Meanwhile, at Fort Madison and Burlington, at Marionville and the Kansas city, even at St. Louis, St. Joseph and Omaha, police details leave the central stations last night were all instructed to watch for the man.

TRACED TO GALESBURG.

Conductor Fred Ahlfeld of the Chicago, Ill., train leaving Chillicothe at 2:30 Monday night was positive Miles was a passenger. Ahlfeld was seen yesterday by a TRIBUNE reporter at the Commercial hotel, Polk and Dearborn streets.

"I had not at that time seen a picture of Miles," he said, "but when later I saw his picture in a copy of the Sunday TRIBUNE I remembered the man who got on my train at Chillicothe last night and I think he is the man. He sat with his back against a picture in the center of the car, sort of hidden, and behind the back of this seat in front of him. I think this is strange because there were plenty of vacant double seats and people generally prefer these. He seemed very nervous and uneasy. He got off at Galesburg at 11:12."

RUM A-PLenty
FOR TOMORROW'S
DINNERS ABROAD

BY GEORGE SELDES.
Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.

London, Nov. 25.—Democracy rum and marmalade are leading Thanksgiving festivities this year. It will be an old-fashioned Thanksgiving, however, as the old and ultra-modern does not fit the dancing madness goes. For the venerable turkey and plum pudding with hard brandy sauce remains unchanged.

Not only all the Americans in London, but thousands of Britons are in the celebration. Papers are carrying full advertising, saying: "American Thanksgiving." American Ambassador Davis will lead a procession before the American society dinner, which is the chief formal fixture. Sailors will dine their officers. The Red Cross will give its employees turkey with trimmings for their dinner. The big hotels are prepared with double seats for their dinners. A merry, very wet time is expected by all.

12 JUGO-SLAVIA HOSTAGES TAKEN BY D'ANNUNZIO

His Dalmatian Force
Expected to Advance
Upon Sebenico.

By JOHN CLAYTON.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

TRISTE, Nov. 10.—[By Courier to Paris.]—If any further proof that that already presented of the need of Flume as an international port were needed, it has come in the difficulties encountered by the Italian relief commission to get its material quickly into the interior since the occupation of Flume by D'Annunzio.

Since the 12th of September the commission has been endeavoring to find some outlet from the sea into the back country which would prove feasible, and it has finally fallen back on the use of a port of entry for material consigned to Jugo-Slavia, after having tried in succession Ragusa, Bucari, and finally Saloni.

All three of these ports present difficulties to rapid and easy transport of goods from the coast into the hinterland which have been pointed out often by President Wilson's colleagues in their argument for Flume as an international port, and which, when tested under practical working conditions, have been found almost insurmountable.

Ragusa was the first port tried, and there the necessity of transhipping from the Ragusa railroad to the broad gauge line at Brod have proved too expensive.

Then the ships were directed to Bucari. At Bucari the railroad is high above the bay, and it is necessary to haul all goods from the ship up the heart-breaking grade six miles to the railroad.

The fact the Saloni is such a great distance from Croatia and the northern portions of the Jugo-Slav Empire, and that the port is in Greek hands, has made it impractical. There remained, then, only the port of Dalmatia, which will help into Croatia, German Austria, Hungary, and Czecho-Slovakia. But Trieste is under Italian control, and is being conducted on such lines as to raise protests from every shipping man here.

"We are accustomed that the peace conference permits for people to enter our country," says one Belgrade paper. "Our peaceful attitude is praiseworthy when we might threat D'Annunzio and his followers into the sea."

Italian Ambassador Arrives.

New York, Nov. 25.—A plea for speedy settlement of the Adriatic question was made by Baron Roman Aveszaro, the new Italian ambassador to the United States, who arrived here today on the Mauritanian.

The envoy discounted reports of possible revolution in Italy, however, declaring his conviction that the traditional common sense of the Italian people would side the nation against any social changes which the election of so large a number of Socialists to the Italian parliament might portend.

"I do not now feel at liberty," said Baron Aveszaro, "to discuss matters of international interest. What I can say is that this indefinite procrastination in the problems covering the solution and settlement of the Adriatic question is keeping the whole people of Italy under a heavy strain and is causing serious apprehension to us and to our allies."

No Instructions Sent Andrews.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—New instructions have been sent to Gen. George A. Andrews, who is Spalato regarding the attitude he is to take in the event of an effort by the D'Annunzio forces to expand their control over Dalmatian territory. Secretary Daniels said today.

Regarding reports that D'Annunzio contemplated a raid on Spalato, the American naval base, Mr. Daniels indicated that the official on the spot had not recommended any action in anticipation of such an attack.

Admiral Daniels has a fleet of twelve craft with a total personnel of 1,480 officers and men. His flagship is the second cruiser Galveston and in the fleet are the gunboat Sacramento, eight destroyers, and two submarine chasers.

HONNOLD OFFERS PLAN TO ADJUST COAL TROUBLES

Summer Buying, Steady Output Suggested to Cut Cost.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.
F. C. Honnold, temporary spokesman for the Illinois coal operators, consented yesterday to outline the fundamental defects in the soft coal industry. He sketched a plan which he believes would bring cheaper coal, give the miners a larger annual income, and do much towards stabilizing the industry.

First, he would have the public get organized, which he would like a commission similar to that appointed by President Roosevelt in the adjustment of the anthracite strike of 1902. Such a tribunal would bring out all the facts from both miners and operators. The miners at the date have opposed such a plan, but he says that "the coal operators are entirely willing to rest their case with such a tribunal."

For Summer Storage.

Then he would have the public buy coal—50,000,000 tons—in the competitive field of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois—between March and August. That would make 12,500,000 tons for Illinois summer storage. This, he says, "would substantially solve the annual recurring problem along the following lines:

1. Provide more regular employment for mine labor.

2. Reduce the cost of producing the total coal output of the country with corresponding reduction in cost to the consumer.

3. Avert periods of coal famine and interference with industrial production.

4. Remove material portion of the heavy transportation tax made on the railroads during the fall and winter season when operators are at the high point and when the movement of cotton, grain, and other agricultural products must be provided for.

Effect of Present System.

"It will be readily understood that during periods of shortened running time, however, the average cost of coal is always higher, and many buyers are compelled to pay a high price for the coal they may most desire. If bought and stored early, however, there is no danger of coal famine and no such denial of choice as to quality and preparation of coal."

FIRST KILLINGS IN SINK FEIN WAR PUT ON ENGLAND

The Sinn Feiners are the lineal descendants of the Christian martyrs, Lazarus,上升 in 1916 and fled from England after the murder of Connolly, McBride, Pearce, and other Irish leaders, told a meeting of the Friends of Irish Freedom in North Side Turner hall last night.

"England spilled the first blood," he declared, "when Scottish Borderers fired on defenseless women and children in the city of Dublin. The Sinn Fein police, the victims of the early Christians—passive resistance. It is not until their women and children were shot down that Pearce and the leaders decided lives must be offered on the altar of liberty to call the world's attention to the conditions in Ireland."

"What England wants from America was revealed this morning in an article by Col. R. McCormick of The Custerian Trust. It's better for Americans for a friend of Ireland to state the same thing. If Col. McCormick got lost in Ireland he'd probably write some more things the British wouldn't like."

LONDON AMAZED AT CUT IN PRICE

LONDON, Nov. 22.—No domestic event in recent time has stirred the public as the ten shilling reduction in the price of coal, announced in the House of commons yesterday by Sir Ansdell Geddes, minister of national service and reconstruction.

The action, coming as it did shortly after a statement by the minister that even a six shilling decrease was impossible, caused general amazement.

While the coal operators, through some of their spokesmen, decline the reduction in price means ruin for them, as coal cannot be produced under existing conditions except at a grave loss.

Miners leaders contend that the action can and ought to be carried much farther.

OUTLOOK BETTER, COAL DIRECTORS ASSURE CHICAGO

No Drastic Measures to Be Extended Now; Must Conserve.

Declaring they believed an early settlement of the strike near the regional coal committee yesterday announced no additional restrictions would be placed on coal consumption. T. W. Proctor visited Mayor Thompson, outlined the situation to him, and informed the mayor of no drastic measures would be necessary at present. The mayor promised to cooperate in any way desired by the committee to promote conservation.

Mr. Proctor said he had made the appointment with the mayor for the purpose of asking drastic coal curtailment in city departments, but that developments of the last two weeks had made only careful conservation necessary.

Roads' Supply Better.

E. H. Ashton, northwest regional director of the coal supply of the railroads, said the coal supply was larger than a week ago because of shipments received from the east.

F. E. Clarity, assistant to Hale Holden, director of the central western region, said the roads in that district were in better condition as regards coal supply than a week ago. He added that drastic curtailment of fuel supplies would force all over the central western region.

"We are releasing only to essential industries," he said, "and to homes. In every city local committees are cooperating with the committee. They check on delivery to homes. We check on delivery to dealers."

Silent on Canadian Coal.

Neither Mr. Ashton nor Mr. Clarity would comment on shipment of coal to Canada. They said that the order exempting Canada from the coal embargo had not been rescinded, but that no coal was going into the dominion over the lines in their region.

With increased operation in eastern mines, the use of the coal reserve of the nation, and curtailment of exports to Italy and South American countries the coal committee figures it can hold out indefinitely so far as preventing suffering in homes or suspension of railroad service is concerned.

Eastern Supplies.

"We had a fair reserve supply to start with," said Mr. Proctor, "and with curtailment of consumption we have made it stretch a long way. The receipt of eastern coal has given us a new lease of life. There will be no additional restrictions, as we hope Washington will have a temporary let-up shortly. Conservation will be continued, however, for some time after the mines resume operation."

The regional committee today received 358 applications for coal. Of these 324 were declined. Of 341 cars and 1000 boxes of coal were shipped in Chicago. Of all the coal released in the district, retailers dealers received 285, manufacturer three, and public utilities forty-nine.

asked if the delay in cabinet action was due to a dispute over a matter of policy or of detail, replied that the question was difficult to answer.

"It is a difficult one, figures, over the amount of increase to be paid the miners, for example," he was asked.

"I am sorry I cannot say anything tonight," he replied.

Coal Seizure Not Studied.

From other sources it was learned that the question of the government taking over the mines was not considered.

Representatives of the operators and miners met at short meeting early in the day and decided they could do nothing until they had received the cabinet figures and proposal of settlement.

MINE OPERATORS BITTERLY RESENT M'ADOO MESSAGE

Charge of Vast Profits Stirs Retort "You Cheer Reds."

(By a STAFF CORRESPONDENT.) Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—[Special.]—Asserting their war profits have been less than 16 cents a ton, the timber and coal operators came back at former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo with a bang today.

Mr. McAdoo's declaration that the operators were well able to pay the miners the 31 per cent increase is challenged outright.

The statement, in the form of an open telegram to Mr. McAdoo, was signed by Thomas A. Brewster, chairman of the central competitive field sales committee, A. M. Ogle, and T. W. Proctor.

"The mine owners," says the message, "are now opposing a wage increase because they believe no increase is necessary to permit any industries man who wants to work to earn sufficient money to maintain a decent American standard of living."

Ask McAdoo for Proof.

Willing to Show Tax Figures.

You suggest a careful examination of income tax returns before an additional price for coal is allowed. This would be included in the investigation which the mine owners agreed to more than a month ago, and have been urging ever since, but thus far the mine workers have been unwilling to agree either to arbitration or investigation.

"Whatever your purpose, it is exceedingly bad taste for you, a former member of the cabinet of the present administration, to inject yourself into the present tense situation in a manner which can only embitter and harden those officers of the government who are now bending every effort to work out a fair and just solution of the mine wage controversy."

McAdoo Urges Shutdown.

New York, Nov. 25.—A shutdown on profits made by bituminous operators is needed for the American people to form a just opinion on the coal situation, William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, declared late today.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 25.—[Special]—From various parts of the country to-night came rumors of an immediately impending railway strike.

It happens that the 500 general chairmen of the four great brotherhoods are in conference in this city considering wage proposals of Director General Hines. They disavowed any purpose to precipitate a general strike. William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, to-night issued the following statement:

"No motion or resolution pertaining to a quick strike has come before the conference of general chairmen of the four railroad brotherhoods in session here for action and I do not know whether any such motion or resolution will be presented."

"I received messages today from Kansas City saying that trainmen and engineers had decided to strike tomorrow unless a favorable reply to their request for increased pay to overcome the high cost of living is granted."

"I have said to all of them in reply that if they think they are bigger than the United States' government, which is operating the railroads at present, I have no advice to give them."

Not Talking Strike.

Timothy Shea, acting president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers, declared that it is "neither the purpose nor the spirit of the Cleveland conference to precipitate a strike."

Statement by L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railroad Conductors, denied "any secret meetings as a general strike."

The only tangible source of the threatened strike seems to be in Kansas City, where the local trainmen's men telegraphed national officials of their organization asking "permission to call a strike of trainmen and engineers."

"Last advice from Kansas City was that the local trainmen had given the hint delivered by President Lee and had decided "to await the action of the Cleveland convention before striking." In fact, they said, no strike was pending.

Consider Overtime Pay.

The 500 general chairmen here decided their session today to considering the offer of Director General Hines for one and one-half pay for overtime in the freight service, and a uniform sixteen-hour rule for crews held away from home terminals. It was decided except the "away from home rule" will be voted on before a vote is reached on the overtime proposition.

From an anonymous source tonight it was learned that in all probability the delegates will reject the offer of time and one-half pay for overtime in the slow freight service at tomorrow's meeting.

One source of rumors of an imminent strike—by Dec. 1—was Chicago. It was said that the general officials would refuse to confirm the story, fearing a general injunction, as in the case of the miners, that the plan was to precipitate it without warning. These stories are discredited.

DENIED IN CHICAGO. Timothy P. Flaherty, secretary of local No. 42 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said last night that while there has been some talk among the switchmen in the Chicago district, going out on a strike, he thought the railroad men would obey their local officers.

"From what I have heard, there is no real strike in sight," said Flaherty. "I have communications from W. G. Lee, our general in which he says the railroad men cannot fight Uncle Sam at this time. If a strike takes place it will be staged by a few disgruntled brothers, who are impatient and over whom their grand lodge officers have lost control."

The rumors of a quick strike reached the stock market and affected prices of rail stocks. St. Paul preferred, for example, was down to 61 1/4; B. & O. was 27 1/2.

$25,000 JEWELS PROVE ONLY $100

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 25.—[Special]—Mrs. Edward Browning, 246 South Sixteenth street, said today the story in circulation from Chicago to the effect that she left $50,000 in jewels in a yellow taxi cab was false so far as the amount of the loss of the jewels in my music box. Vrayment, it would be nice to have one of those bands at the Auditorium. Maybe, some day, some one will write a jazz opera. Why not?"

"Would you like to sing in it?" she was asked, but Mary only shrugged her right shoulder in manner shimmish and said she thought she probably wouldn't exactly fit in.

As for the painted—er—limbs, the French flappers are said to "wear" such was very positive.

"There is nothing more beautiful than a good looking leg in a black silk stocking. Don't you think so?"

She looked anxiously about from scribe to scribe.

"Well—er—I imagine so," ventured one, waxing vermillion.

"Humph! He imagines!" scoffed Mary. "Isn't he the pure young man?"

How Amiable She Is.

And then she posed for the photographers, having entirely recovered from the "jazz" which made her snub the crowd of camera men that greeted her at the station in the morning.

"I just felt mean when I got off the train," she said. "Sleeping on the Pullman is so unsatisfactory, and—well, you'll tell how amiable I was this afternoon, won't you?"

And when Mary—alias Cleopatra, alias Thais—takes a poor scribe by the hand and smiles at him, what else can a poor scribe do? Yes, gentle reader, Mary was amiable.

WOMAN'S DEATH REQUIRES INQUIRY. Mrs. Carrie Catrivas, a guest at the Lexington hotel, New York, died at 125 Madison avenue, New York, early yesterday morning from hemorrhage of the brain.

The rumors of a quick strike reached the stock market and affected prices of rail stocks. St. Paul preferred, for example, was down to 61 1/4; B. & O. was 27 1/2.

'WHY NOT JAZZ OPERA?' QUERIES MARY GARDEN

Then Turns to Beauty That Is Incased in Silk Stockings.

Cleopatra, Thais, and many other notable ladies blew into town by proxy yesterday, all ready to warble of their wickedness at many dollars per night. "Chicago's own" Mary Garden is their soprano representative.

Surrounded by roses and pictures of well-known and a gown of many colors, she sat in her suite at the Blackstone and discussed movies and stockings and legs—and that ain't all.

Her loquacity was in contrast with her conduct on her arrival, when, in a temperamental fit, she drove away interviewers and photographers with her cane.

City Not to See Gown.

Only one thing was lacking—"gown of a thousand mirrors" that Mary designed to make her audience gasp.

"Oh, yes; it's down at the station in one of my sixteen trunks," she explained. "But Chicago won't get a chance to see itself in it—oh, no. Cleopatra and Thais don't wear any gowns and, besides, I use it only for concert work."

Mary says she is glad to get back to her favorite village. There's something about the place she likes—even if she had washed her hands only ten times since arriving. And the fact that the town is dry wouldn't bother her at all if it wasn't for her French maid, who has had to drink water for the first time in her life.

Relief on Friends.

"Moi?" asked Mary. "O, I like a nice cold drink of champagne now and then, but—"

"And you have brought a cellar with you? Perhaps in one of those sixteen trunks?"

Both trunks were crushed, for Mary denied any search-and-seizable property. She thought, peut-être, that some kind folks in Chicago might have a nice cold drink of champagne for her once in a while.

Then she talked of Paris, and the way the crowd fought for admission when Bill Hart's name was flashed on the Champs-Elysée. Not only has America conquered with melodramatic celluloid, she said, but with jazz music as well.

Hope for Jazz Opera.

"I like it, too," confessed Mary. "I've got all the jazz band records in my music box. Vrayment, it would be nice to have one of those bands at the Auditorium. Maybe, some day, some one will write a jazz opera. Why not?"

"Would you like to sing in it?" she was asked, but Mary only shrugged her right shoulder in manner shimmish and said she thought she probably wouldn't exactly fit in.

As for the painted—er—limbs, the French flappers are said to "wear" such was very positive.

"There is nothing more beautiful than a good looking leg in a black silk stocking. Don't you think so?"

She looked anxiously about from scribe to scribe.

"Well—er—I imagine so," ventured one, waxing vermillion.

"Humph! He imagines!" scoffed Mary. "Isn't he the pure young man?"

YORK PLEADS FOR MOUNTAINEERS, REAL AMERICANS

Modest of His Deeds, but Urgent for Children of the Hills.

Sergt. Alvin C. York yawned during a glowing introduction to an audience in Orchestra hall last night as if weary of the hero business.

Arising to speak, he made clear he appeared in public not to commercialize his deeds, but to help the children of the southern hills to the educational advantages found in northern states, urged subscription to the fund for schools, sounded a warning against the Reds and evangelized in behalf of the "old fashioned religion."

Tells How He Did It.

The blacksmith and farmer who went to war a rookie and returned with the record of the greatest individual achievement of any soldier in the millions who fought, recited the exploit by which he took Hill 240, killing 20 Germans and capturing 122 of the enemy and 38 machine guns single-handed, Oct. 8, 1918.

"There are things we don't like to talk about," he said, "but we have to get through with this part of the talk as soon as I can. Men who were across don't care to tell of their work when the partners they had learned to love were killed."

Sergt. York attributed his success to his belief in God. With a Springfield rifle, a Colt's automatic, and a deadly aim, he silenced a machine gun nest, compelling a German major to throw out his revolver and give up a command of ninety men.

With the aid of eight doughboys, York lined the Germans in a column, two abreast, with the major at the head, and marched the prisoners up the hill, compelling the officer to issue a command silencing ten more machine guns.

Mountaineers Real Americans.

"Now that I've told you a few things I saw myself," said York, "I'm going to tell you a few things I want to see. I want to see some schoolhouses in the mountains of Tennessee. The schools are bad, the children are poor. I'm going to knock them up more than ever. The civil war to what it means to be an American. And there's the best American stock in this country in those mountains."

ORIENT EXPRESS DE LUXE PREY OF GOLD BRAIDS

Italian, Serb, Roumanian Officials Try to Get Your Trunk.

BY THOMAS STEWART RYAN.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BUCHAREST, Nov. 26, via Paris, Nov. 25.—To come here on the celebrated Orient Express, de luxe, is almost as comfortable as to tour the Murmansk coast.

You leave Paris with a childlike faith in that phrase, "de luxe." Your first disillusionment comes at Brügge, the last town in France, where the seat of Lubbock, Eddy City, and Flanders.

"We're about to break even," says the Orient Express to ask if you have any money. "Being initiated, you say, 'Only a thousand francs.' He being also initiated, replies: "Let's see." So you roll over while he shakes down your pillow, turns back your blankets, and looks in your boots. If he detects you taking more than one thousand francs of your own money from France, he reproves you severely and keeps the surplus.

Inside the collar is a good place.

Then the Italiens get their chance.

If you have a trunk that was closed only through the superhuman efforts of two concierges, the Italiens will turn out all its contents. But if you have a trunk you are as good as lost anyhow. The one ambition of the baggage man is to toss it off in the mud.

At Trieste the train casts off all pretensions of being "de luxe" and reveals its true character. The Italiens are the most superhuman efforts of two concierges, the Italiens will turn out all its contents. But if you have a trunk you are as good as lost anyhow. The one ambition of the baggage man is to toss it off in the mud.

HARRIS YANKEE ENVOY FOR AREA LARGER THAN U.S.

Rock Island Man, Consul
General in Siberia, Busy in Wars 20 Years.

BY FREDERICK SMITH.
Tribune Correspondent in the Far East.
Copyright: 1918: By the Tribune Company.
PEKING, Nov. 2.—Consul General

Harris of Rock Island, Ill., who topped off an American college education with five years at Heidelberg, entered the consular service of the United States more than twenty years ago. He is one of those Americans whose work for his government has kept him abroad most of his life. He is a militant master of difficult diplomatic tangles and has been through so many "showdowns" as he calls them, and revolution, that he has lost track of the number.

SERVED IN THE BALKANS.
Mr. Harris was five years in Turkey, witnessing the revolutions which kept that country in violent turmoil for two and a half years. He was sent to investigate the massacres of Armenians by Turks at Adana. He has served in all the Balkan states and in Greece. For an undetermined year he was at Stockholm. He joined the staff of the National City bank and came to Russia in 1917, reaching Petrograd when the revolution was on. Going to Moscow he had the pleasure of stopping at the Hotel National, where twenty-four 8-inch shells entered one night, as unbidden guests. In the scenes of slaughter the bolsheviks and the anti-Reds marked practically every building in the city with their fire. Bullets were so thick that telegraph and telephone wires were cut down by them.

Mr. Harris was on the third floor when the fighting began and almost immediately the building became a field piece manned by the bolsheviks who were making a target of the hotel. Rifle bullets accompanied the shells, and the smaller missiles cut the water pipes in Mr. Harris' room, forcing him to move to a room on the second floor. Bolshevik leaders came to the hotel and complained they were being fired upon by persons hidden in the hotel. The guests combined in a denial of this charge and straightway hung out American, French, and Italian flags. The street battles continued until the day that he witnessed the accession of the present Kolchak government to control of Siberian affairs.

The consul general has done much for the progress of Armenia in the last year. His "district" is twice as great in extent as the United States. He has a staff of consuls and vice consuls scattered over many thousands of miles. A group of younger officials remain with him on his Omsk train and his company is known far and near as the "Harris family." Some of the younger men have gone through war and have been traveling through war-torn regions, that show they have the American spirit of overcoming difficulties and bucking danger without hesitation.

Both the school heating plant and for passengers to America, as great as the of the Lawton building, 533 South Wabash avenue, which was closed down yesterday by the commissioner, will be allowed to operate again today. Twenty-four hours ago cease fire was declared yesterday in the House of Good Shepherd, 1109 Grace street; the Helsen building, 1417 Carroll avenue; the Surf hotel, 501 Surf street; and the Marigold Gardens, 801 Grace street.

SHIPPING BOARD PLANS 60 LINERS FOR PASSENGERS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—Plans of the shipping board for establishment of passenger lines on all the important ocean routes call for a fleet of about sixty liners, officials said today. Half of them will be German ships, formerly army transports, now undergoing repairs, including the Leviathan.

About twenty-five ships will be used as transports during the war. They average 9,000 deadweight tons, more than $4,000,000 will be expended in alterations and in special equipment for the seven former German passenger liners aggregating 67,639 tons recently allotted by the shipping board for a fast passenger and mail service between the United States and South America.

When I tried to get out of Orchestra hall Monday afternoon there was a crowd there, and the policemen were trying to scatter them," said Miss Florence Oken, 3448 Burley avenue, last night to a TRIBUNE reporter. "The crowd prevented me from moving away and this big copper, Harry J. Hurley of the city police force, came up and shoved me back. Then he twisted my arm and struck me again. Then I slapped him.

"Finally he dragged me into the manager's office and there beat, kicked, mowed me down on the floor, and called me names. Finally the wagon came and they took me to the detention home.

"I got out in time to read THE TRIBUNE this morning, and it stated that I had started the fight. I didn't. The copper did."

THOMPSON IDEAS HOW TO RUN U.S. ARE DUE DEC. 8

City Hall's Program for 1920 Will Be Revealed
Soon at Washington.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 26.—[Special.] The Chicago city hall is to have a complete political program for 1920. It is due for announcement at or about Dec. 8, the day Mayor Thompson and his party start for the national committee session in Washington.

The high spots, as the matter is now viewed in the state capitol are these: Congressman Martin B. Madden very likely is to become the city hall candidate for United States senator. Candidates for progress in Chicago are expected to determine this definitely within the week. Mr. Madden, the story says, is preferred by the city hall managers to Congressman William E. Mason, due largely, it is suggested to the excellence of Mr. Madden's war record in congress.

State Slate Probable.

The city hall will have, probably a complete slate for state offices, if it wins control of the Cook county committee, as seems likely, at the April primaries.

The city hall's state ticket in this event probably would be headed by Len Small of Kankakee. Mayor Thompson is expected to be a candidate for the United States senate in 1922.

Meanwhile the city hall forces, according to the gossip, are not to oppose Gov. Lowden as presidential nominees.

It is said, however, they would fight

'Sweat Machines, Not Men,' Briton's Cure for Unrest

New York, Nov. 25.—Sweating the machine, not the man, is the economic principle on which Lord Leverhulme, one of Britain's leading soap manufacturers, justifies the six hour day for workmen and the twelve hour day for machinery.

His firm has determined to introduce this schedule in Great Britain, the United States, Canada, and elsewhere, hoping thereby to profit their workmen and themselves.

Comes to Urge Change.

Lord Leverhulme, who arrived to-day on the Mauritania, came, he said, to urge the introduction of the plan in this country. He declared it will prove economically advantageous and profitable in any industry in which the overhead charges for plant and equipment equal or exceed the wage bill.

Describing the main features of the plan as well as the long established system of "co-partnership" or profit-sharing, he said: "I am sure, Lord Leverhulme pointed out that the scheme for hours must not be confounded with a flat six hour day, but consisted in employing his working forces, men and women, in two shifts, each working on a thirty-six hour week basis, while the machinery is kept going the full twelve hours a day.

Wear, Waste and Profits.

"It is an economic benefit if a machine wears out under extreme production," he said, "but an economic disadvantage if men and women are worn out by long hours. Under our scheme, the morning shifts in the Leverhulme factories would work from seven to one, six days a week, the afternoon shift working slightly longer hours in order to gain the time for the customary British Saturday half holiday."

Lord Leverhulme also explained the "co-partnership" plan in effect in his factories. Under this scheme every employee 21 years old or over who has been in the employ of the firm for a year is eligible to become a co-partner in the firm, his interest being represented by special shares of stock, in proportion to the amount of his wages, on which regular dividends slightly less than the ordinary shares representing invested capital are paid.

$1,000,000 in Stock Bonus.

In order to encourage efficiency, employees are divided into four classes, according to the interest they display in their work. They receive varying amounts of stock. Payments to workmen partners under this plan last year amounted to approximately $1,000,000.

Lord Leverhulme believes that in industrial conditions in England are steadily improving. Nationalization of mines, for which the British miners were contending, would be declared, a mistake for them and for the state, in view of the menace of fuel oil competition.

"Colliery owners," he said, "should be glad to have the mines taken off their hands, in this day of oil fuel competition." He held strong views, too, on the efficiency of government management of industry, declaring that experience had shown that the government "can't take care of a toffee shop."

to defeat Gov. Lowden for the renomination if he is not the presidential nominee.

Battle to Start in Wards.
The first step, as all understand it, will be the battle for ward committees in April. The city hall now holds seventeen of the thirty-five wards, but none of the six country town district committees.

A city hall gain of five wards in April would give the required majority and control of the organization. This, it is predicted, will happen unless some sort of harmony arrangement is put together between the Deneen and the Brundage forces.

DESERTERS PUT SPUR TO ACTION BY LABOR PARTY

Rump Hurries Through Platform After Frazier and Farmers Quit.

Hastily drafting a platform of thirty-two planks, almost identical with those of other radical parties, and electing an executive committee consisting of a man and a woman each from about thirty states, the convention called to form a national labor party came to a sudden close last night.

Less than 600 of the original 1,300 delegates remained at the special night session for the others left for their homes in the last two days for various reasons. The delegation was headed by Gov. Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota, counted on as a strong ally and presidential material for the new party.

Want Senate Abolished.

Demands voiced in the platform adopted were:

Abolition of the United States Senate.

Repeal of the espionage act, with the abolition of conscription and secret treaties and the establishment of the right of free speech, press, and assemblies. No compulsory military training.

Nationalization of railroads, mines, forest, water power, telephones, stockyards, grain elevators, cold storage, and terminal warehouses, packing plants, flour mills, gas and oil wells, and all basic industries.

Adoption of the Plumb plan for the railroads.

Organization of a league of workers of all nations and international solidarity, with legislation to protect the workers against foreign made goods until the solidarity can be accomplished.

Delegates Take Flight.

During the day sessions yesterday, backers of the new party noticed that the delegates had been deserting in the last two days. More than 400 had left for their homes. Nonpartisan leaders headed by Gov. Frazier had started the movement, followed by delegates from the radical farmer organizations. Some 100 had left yesterday after terrible arguments on the nature of nations, prohibition, and a soviet form of government. A rumor of a railroad strike caused a further exodus.

After pleading with the delegates, Duncan McDonald, chairman of the committee of committees, induced something less than 600 to come back last night and the party platform put through. Resolutions were thrown to one side and a supreme effort to make the convention wind up successfully were made.

Platform Put Over.

The platform went over, after one unidentified delegate who, asked what he was to give as the reason for the abolition of the senate, was told to say, "general principles," by Chairman Max Hayes.

Order Collins Cab Driver Held for Manslaughter

Martin Parks of 1448 West Twelfth street, a yellow cab chauffeur, was ordered held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter yesterday by a coroner's jury in connection with the death of Lieut. Raymond Robert Collins. Collins was killed Nov. 14, when the taxicab driven by Parks, in which he was going to the Northwestern terminal, was struck by another automobile at Twenty-ninth street and Michigan avenue.

Witnesses testified the cab driver swerved his car in front of the automobile driven by Raymond Smith, chauffeur for Max Herskovitz, 5330 South Park avenue. Smith was ordered released.

According to the verdict, Collins' death was "due to the criminal carelessness, amounting to manslaughter, of Martin Parks."

"BEG YOUR PARDON."

In establishing the "Beg Your Pardon" department THE TRIBUNE hoped for mutual recognition of two items of conduct: by the public of the inevitability of error in the publishing of a newspaper and by THE TRIBUNE of the right of the public to insist upon corrections. We think this mutual recognition has been beneficial; has smoothed the general relations between the newspaper and the reader.

We are aware that not infrequently the guilt of inevitable error rests exasperatingly upon the guilty and that apology is often disastrous. However, we are so confirmed in the belief that our self-administered—and sometimes nauseating—pardon is good for our character that we propose to adhere strictly to the policy of "Beg Your Pardon" when we are found in error.

In pursuance of this determination we invite TRIBUNE readers frankly to call our attention to errors. Address "Beg Your Pardon," THE TRIBUNE, Chicago.

MAKE IT SNAPPY.

The South Dakota law governing presidential primaries stipulates that each candidate for state delegate must make a statement of his policies and keep it within eight words. South Dakotans may be neither busy nor bored. It may be merely wise. A candidate might disguise his opinions in eight thousand words, but he cannot in eight. He must say something.

In brevity the language becomes a vehicle of expression. In prolixity it can become the method of suppression. The necessity of putting it over in eight words or less may drive some of the candidates to the familiar quotations: "Millions for defense, but not a cent tribute." One word had to be dropped. There is a statement of policy which we suspect will get the candidate who uses it about two votes in South Dakota.

"Never haul the old flag down" ought to go strong against internationalism. We do not know how it would work in South Dakota. In Pennsylvania we know that "The old guard dies, but never surrenders" would go big. Mr. Penrose might run for president on that platform and never say another word. If Democratic candidates are at a loss, how about "My bonnie lies over the ocean?" In Mesopotamia, probably.

LEADING ITALY TO A BLOODY WAR.

We do not think D'Annunzio's destiny is what Italian chauvinists think it is. The Serbs and other Jugo-Slavs, sick of war—they had been fighting Turks and Bulgarians before they began fighting Austrians and were almost demolished by Germans—are almost nonresistant now. They appear to the inter-allied peace council to enforce its own decrees. They will not always appeal. They will fight.

D'Annunzio, living in the Garibaldi tradition, may intoxicate Italian emotions now, but, in our opinion, he is one of two things: He is either a Capt. Streeter with a desiderio, or he is the certain author of a bloody war and one which Italy probably will fight disastrously.

As frequently, we may be wrong, but we think that the fevered poet either will be chased off the Dalmatian coast by the interallied governments or he will lead Italy into a great war.

Italy is a country of harbors. It has harbors without hinterland but no hinterland without harbors. It moves easily from interior to sea. Jugo-Slavia has a far-reaching, productive hinterland and no harbors—will have none if D'Annunzio closes the Dalmatian coast. Austria built the harbor of Trieste as an outlet for its own enclosed country. The Italians now have that as a part of Italia Irredenta. Jugo-Slavia was given Fiume as an outlet. D'Annunzio has taken that as a part of Italia Irredenta. He has gone down the coast and has taken Zara, another harbor.

He will pen a strong and fighting people away from the sea and that strong and fighting people will not remain penned in. Thus to contain a strong people is a certain cause of war. They will fight or try to fight their way to the open water. The American people would not tolerate another nation at the mouth of the Mississippi. They would fight to oust it. The only people who will remain in a hinterland away from the sea are people who are not numerous enough and strong enough to carve their way there.

As dangerous as it would be for the peace of Europe to have the French on the right bank of the Rhine, it would be more dangerous to have a fringe of Italians keeping the Jugo-Slavs away from the Adriatic.

If they are kept away they will fight. They are not belligerent now because they are tired of fighting and because they hope the inter-allied council will get D'Annunzio out finally. The Italian government ought to have stopped him at once. That might have been done before he gained so much headway. He is now the great Italian hero and the government may be unable to check him. Italy is not any too stable within and if the Italian government seemed to betray what D'Annunzio represents to be the holy Italian cause, the poet might overthrow the government.

But statesmen of other nations are right in asking how Italy can be accepted as a reliable signatory to peace agreements if she cannot control a chauvinistic patriot and the officers and men in her own army. Is a government's word and its purpose to be defied by groups of nationalists who rebel against agreements?

D'Annunzio is probably not leading Italy to imperialistic glory. He is more likely leading her to disaster. The Serbs and Jugo-Slavs are a strong, military people. They know how to organize and how to fight. They are sturdy, patient, with inherited and perpetuated virtues of courage and strength and with a new nationalism. If they are pained in they will break out.

The explosive force, nationally, is always greater in the people hemmed in than in the people who try to restrict them. The force contained in Jugo-Slavia by the Italian retention of the harbors of the Dalmatian coast will certainly produce a war and it will be a bloody one.

If D'Annunzio is a Capt. Streeter he can be put out by an effort which is intended to get results. If he is not put out he will shed much blood for Italy.

HEALTH IN THE SCHOOLS.

We think the people of Chicago may rely upon the sincerity of such medical authorities as Frank Billings, James B. Herrick, Joseph L. Miller, Joseph A. Capps, and William Allen Pusey, who have expressed their concern over the state of affairs in the public school health service.

These physicians are alarmed, and appropriately so, we think, by the failure of the council to provide funds for school physicians and nurses and by the proposal to take health administration out of the city health department and bestow it upon the school board.

The public health ought to be the concern of a single department having long established facilities instead of being divided and put in the keeping of inexperienced agencies. It ought not to be necessary for the public to constitute itself an extralegal agency to see that work, properly the city government's, is done at all. And yet the public ought not to fail in this task if it appears that the lives of school children are endangered by the apparent breakdown in official machinery.

WHAT MAKES CHICAGO?

Go out to Dexter pavilion at Forty-second and Halsted streets next Saturday or during the week following, and see what Chicagoans might well call "the greatest show on earth."

Why? Because agriculture is the foundation of Chicago's prosperity, and the live stock show—its formal name is "International Live Stock exposition"—is a huge exhibition of that branch of agriculture which is essential to the middle west. American city folks are largely from the farm and they will appreciate this wonderful display of prize cattle—twenty acres of exhibits—and every night a horse show, which will remind you that the automobile has not abolished the horse and never will.

But we should like Chicago to go to the live stock show because city people, whether city or country bred, should never forget the great industry from which this city derives its giant strength.

A few weeks ago a great dairy exposition was held to remind us that Chicago is in the midst of one of the greatest dairy regions in the world. At the live stock show beef cattle and horses are the feature, but there is also a grain and hay show in connection. So we can learn, if we will, what is going on in agriculture, the basic industry of America and of the world, and the bountiful mother of our own country.

And see what science, experience, and devotion are doing for the world in this, the most essential of human occupations. Go and see what the problems are which the farmer and stock breeders are working out for our common benefit. Go and meet the folks from the country and talk things over. Chicago belongs to the farm. Some day, we hope, there will be a great agricultural capitol building here, where all branches of agriculture will have their official center and meeting place, where all conferences will be held and activities recorded.

Meanwhile, let us show that we are interested by attending such exhibitions as the live stock show.

CUTTING OUT THE FATIMAS.

Turkey, which still wishes that the United States would take it under a mandate, finds that the cost of living requires a reduction in large families. When our bankers, and elders, and wise men urge that a thoughtless American generation to turn to their generally talk of the better cuts and cabarets, of suits of leather, and of wearing last year's clothes.

This would make a Turk laugh. When a father in Islam sits down with a month's bill and the necessity of revising his budget, he begins to dispense with institutions. It may make him wild to think of an American household which can retrench by laying up the second automobile and canning the butter.

The Turk has cut a few slices out of his real life. Mustapha looks over the list. Fatima was a nice wife, but he'll have to let her go. What will the poor thing do? Take in washing? There's not much washing done, as Mustapha knows. Probably because the Islam code provides for prohibition that there are no washerwomen. There being no washerwomen, there can be no washing.

There's that fat Georgian girl, what's her name? She can go back to her folks, if she has car fare. She had a bad temper anyway. And so on down the list, cutting it down to the rock bottom of necessities. Thrift means something to a Turk, but it must be employed, and Constantine reports that reduced harem are the prevailing indication of the national impoverishment.

We might have a tag day for the harem, but we suspect that if we get a mandate for Turkey we'll mandate them into a condition which will be a great deal more like the home life of our dear queen than anything their thrift has brought them to.

Did any one ever consider what an American mandate would do to the simple polygamous life of the Turk after that mandate had been engrossed by the American conscience? Stephen Lauzon, the editor of Figaro, who has been much in the United States, says that America ought to keep out of Europe, and he hopes it will. Let him tell the world.

A HAIR-BREADTH ESCAPE.

A letter from Fay Scovel states that he and his wife enjoyed a visit from Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Quigley while they were in the state of New York. While on their way to the train they passed thru a very exciting accident, which might have badly injured Tom had he been riding on the bumper in place of the back seat. While driving along the highway a cow jumped the fence and ran in front of the car, and before the car could be stopped it struck the cow between the two fences, badly breaking the lamps, fenders and radiator.

"If that bird Riq," communicates L. R. W., "is the party who always gets the room next mine when I need sleep, I'm not a bit sorry about his dungbeast machine."

of boots, manteas, and chemicals to be paid for on delivery in Petrograd. Martens denied he or Malone had formed or was forming "a corporation to do business with soviet Russia," and declared that his "embassy" was not specifically interested in such an organization.

Malone was not regular counsel for the soviet bureau. Martens said, but was employed solely as special agent in plans to buy and ship to Russia $5,000,000 worth of boots and $4,500,000 worth of other supplies.

Gives Time to Propaganda.

Martens asserted that 25 per cent of his activities are devoted to propaganda for recognition of the Russian soviet government by the United States, or "subtly to impress upon the American people that the Russian soviet form of government is desirable."

Inquiries based on the committee's announced efforts to find out if Martens is or is not the reality chief of the communist radicals trying to spread revolution throughout the United States brought no definite affirmative results today. Martens admitted having a branch office in Detroit, in charge of a Dr. Rovin.

Martens said since April he had received $1,000 a month for his use here from the soviet government. No contributions had been solicited or received from any other source, he said. More than three score radicals await.

deportation hearings at Ellis Island, now being investigated by the house immigration committee, have instituted two strikes within twenty-four hours. After having issued an ultimatum to the effect that they would not attend their hearings unless the wire screen which separated them from visitors was removed, they declined an invitation to march into the dining hall for breakfast.

Discovery of a plot of several "Reds" to escape with the aid of visitors was the reason for setting up the wire barrier against which the strike is directed, Byron H. Uhl, acting commissioner of immigration, announced.

Radars Pick Up Chemicals.

A large quantity of chemicals, which could easily be converted into explosives, was found in a secret room in the headquarters of the United Russian Workers in East Fifteenth street, raided today by detectives attached to the bomb squad. One bottle which was found was labeled "T. N. T."

The bureau of mines in Washington will be asked to send a representative to examine the chemicals.

NORTH DAKOTA TO TAKE FIELD AGAINST REDS

Mitchell, S. D., Nov. 25.—Reports received at the Republican state headquarters here from the county proposal conventions held in South Dakota on Tuesday, Nov. 18, show:

That Gen. Leonard Wood will receive the endorsement of the state proposal convention at Pierre on Dec. 2 for the Republican nomination for president.

That Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois will be given the dissenting or minority endorsement.

Proposal known to be for Gen.

Wood in regular, has received with 30,000 votes compared with 8,000 estimated for Gov. Lowden.

It is expected that this will be about the proportion in which the total vote will divide.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 25.—A bill defining criminal syndicalism, which would make it a felony in this state to advocate or teach "the duty, necessity, or propriety of crime, sabotage, violence, or other unlawful method of terrorism," will be introduced, probably tomorrow, by Representative E. W. Herbert in the North Dakota legislature, which began its extraordinary session today. The bill would prohibit assemblies for teaching of syndicalism and provides a penalty of not less than ten years' imprisonment or fine of not less than $5,000 or both.

After hearing addresses by Gov. L. J. Frazier and Associate Justice J. E. Robinson of the state Supreme court and referring to a committee's resolution to ratify the woman's federal suffrage amendment, both houses adjourned at 1 p. m. now.

Don't be content with "once-in-a-while" Coffee!

Men: don't say unkind things about the coffee-making ability of wives! If the coffee isn't good day after day it is not their fault. Ordinary coffee simply does not lend itself to the wonderful uniformity of flavor that men ask.

But now we offer a coffee for consistent keen enjoyment. It is ready for instant serving at odd hours or mealtime, and best of all, the flavor is not only irresistibly fresh, but absolutely unchanging. This is why. We make the coffee for you. Our prize coffee-makers use our extra-grade coffee and guard each step in the making, as only they know how. Then all the water is evaporated, the grounds discarded, leaving a delicate aromatic powder that is the concentrated essence of the finest coffee you have ever tasted.

A half-teaspoon in a cup, boiling water, and you have a cup of coffee that is a treat in quality and flavor. Compare it with the finest coffee you have ever had. Then consider this: no waste, no muss, no bother with pots. Try this wonderful coffee today.

twenty years. His salary also was reduced in accordance with the position.

Shortly after the session opened it became apparent that the Chadsey duo—the superintendent and Trustee Loeb—were in for an unpleasant afternoon.

Supt. Chadsey started to read what he termed "plans for the improvement of the schools." This covered nine typewritten pages and a glance at it seemed to bring a scowl to the faces of the opposition forces.

He had hardly passed the opening sentence when Trustee Hart Hansen said that the movement had been referred to the school administration committee. Trustee Loeb countered, but was smothered. Supt. Chadsey did not continue, because Acting President Albert H. Severinghaus put the motion to a vote. It carried.

Then the board members, led by Trustee Hansen, got into their attack. An order was advanced directing the superintendent to rescind previous orders which had been issued.

Then the order directing Associate Superintendent Mortenson and three assistants to take over the duties of Superintendent Chadsey was carried.

Board Adjourns Meeting.

The session was else that the board could do but adjourn. The members moved out with smiles.

Five minutes later Attorney Roy Shannon, Superintendent Chadsey and Trustee Loeb were in conference in the lawyer's office.

Superintendent Chadsey regarded the action of the board as futile. He said:

"In my opinion the trustees are in contempt of court. I am satisfied to wait until Judge Scanlan acts. Guess I'm lucky that they allowed me to keep my desk and hat rack. There's some word I should apply to what took place this afternoon, but I can't think of it just now. I am not in the least bit worried."

Chadsey's Plans for Schools.

The statement which Superintendent Chadsey had started to read was an order for him to conduct education in Chicago on a broader scale.

It would provide for the establishment of a $1,000 minimum teacher's salary, a change in the salary schedule to attract competent teachers, the expansion of the high school system with adequate buildings, and a more complete scholastic program for pupils above the sixth grade.

A campaign which would tend to Americanize the foreigner through education.

ECHOES

In memory of seventeen of its employees who made heroic sacrifices in the war, the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company will be host tomorrow to 100 convalescent soldiers now at Fort Sheridan. Arrangements have been made at the Illinois Athletic club to entertain 100 at dinner at 1 o'clock. Afterward there will be a program in which actors playing at local theaters will take part.

There will be a meeting Friday evening at 8 o'clock of all former members of the 89th division in Room 1124 County building.

Lawndale post No. 104 of the American Legion will hold a smoker and athletic program at Douglas park auditorium Friday night. Wrestling and boxing will be featured. Tickets are on sale at 3461 West Roosevelt road and room 771 Conway building.

There also was advocated. This would enable the adult as well as the minor to attend day school and increase facilities for night classes.

It recommended larger appropriation for the elementary and summer schools.

Concerning Finances.

"I am aware that these recommendations, if carried out, involve a very real increase in the expenses of school administration," he said. "I realize that the increased revenues now available are absolutely inadequate even for maintaining the schools without undertaking improvements.

"I also appreciate that there are other pressing obligations of the city which demand increased taxation. Possibly the present method of securing revenues should be replaced or supplemented by other forms of taxation. The proper support of our schools, however, is fundamental, and it is necessary that we prepare for the city statements which may show, without possibility of confusion or misunderstanding, the cost of education to the city and its relation to other municipal expenditures.

Speaks of Obligation.

"I am returning to this work not as a matter of personal choice but because I invited when I accepted the invitation extended me last March to assume a responsibility which I then and still consider the greatest that can come to one in educational work.

"I was persuaded to accept the invitation then extended to me because it was repeatedly reiterated by those in whose judgment I had confidence that the people of Chicago generally would support modifications of school conditions which would adequately meet all changing educational needs, and that the passage of the amended school law was expected to result in an influential superintendency with definite statutory rights designed to secure effective freedom from political interference.

"It is perhaps unnecessary to say that I am in no wise concerned with any judgment other than that of the citizens and their representatives on the school board."

SCHOOL NURSES' DEVOTION WINS PAY FROM CITY

Doctors Must Wait Until 1920; "Flying Health Squad" Is Asked.

One hundred and ten school nurses returned to their work yesterday without assurance that they would be paid for their fight on scarlet fever and diphtheria. They will receive their salaries regularly.

The council finance committee, which was given full power to act by the council on Monday, voted yesterday to transfer $34,825 from health department salvage funds to the nurses' salary account. In addition Health Commissioner Robertson prevailed on the committee to agree that the November and December salaries of 150 school physicians who give half their time to the school children shall be paid when the 1920 appropriation bill is passed.

Now Work Without Pay.

The physicians are now working without pay and $28,000 must be appropriated in the 1920 budget if they are to be paid. Their efficiency, according to health department officials, has been materially reduced by the lack of the monthly pay envelope.

"The finance committee's vote to pay salaries next year is about nothing," said one health official. "However, what is needed is immediate payment. The physicians are spending too much of their time running around after aldermen and trying to borrow money to meet the rent."

Ask for "Flying Squad."

Health Commissioner Robertson, for a further transfer of $7,000 to create a "flying health squad" consisting of fifteen health and six quarantine officers was met by the promise that the money would be forthcoming in 1920. The squad, the commissioner said, is to be used to stamp out contagious diseases in all localities where the number of new cases suggests the possibility of an epidemic.

Warms of Epidemic.

"We are facing an epidemic of scarlet fever and diphtheria," said Dr. Robertson. "Unless they have not been paid a number of the school physicians have quit to devote their entire time to private practice."

To back up his words he submitted department records showing that on Nov. 2 of this year there were 416 diphtheria and 1,034 scarlet fever cases in the city. On the same day last year there were 200 diphtheria and 62 scarlet fever cases.

Mayo and Faherty Rush $56,800,000 Street Plans

Mayor Thompson and Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, put their heads together yesterday in an effort to bring about early completion of the six street improvements, costing $56,800,000, approved by voters at the last election. Mr. Faherty said after the conference that with proper cooperation the work will be completed by the close of Mayor Thompson's term in office, a little more than three years.

HAZEN REPLACES STELK AS SPEED JUDGE ON DEC. 1

Persons charged with breaking the speed and other auto laws and ordinances will face new Judge Idee. They will be taken before Municipal Judge Irvin R. Hazen.

Judge Stelk, who has presided in the auto court ever since its transfer from the Circuit Court of Domestic Relations, and who has been the terror of break-neck drivers, will succeed Judge Gemmill in the jury and vacancy court.

These and other assignments were announced yesterday by Chief Justice Olson. Judge Dennis W. Sullivan will continue in the Moral court until Jan. 1, when Judge Stelk may replace him. Judge Sullivan may be transferred to one of the criminal branches, where he once served as an assistant state's attorney.

WOUNDED YANKS LET BELTS OUT FOR TURKEY DAY

Hospitals Arrange Huge Feasts; Gobs Yearn for "Home Spirit."

Thanksgiving will be a day of feasting in the army, navy, and marine hospitals of Chicago, Great Lakes, and Ft. Sheridan, despite high prices and the scarcity of turkey.

Two tons of turkey were delivered at Sheridan yesterday by the 2,800 wounded soldiers promptly began declining invitations extended by the public. It was said only four or five hundred will leave the hospitals for dinner tomorrow, the others preferring to remain for the turkey, football game, and movies at the fort.

Red Cross to Be Host.

Five hundred wounded soldiers in the United States Public Health Service hospital at Drexel boulevard and Forty-seventh street are to be entertained by the Red Cross following a turkey dinner.

As many wounded marines at Marine Hospital No. 123 at Marine Hospital No. 1 will abandon the diet prescribed for injured men. They are to be entertained by Marshall Field & Co.

At Great Lakes hospital 300 gobos are yearning for the home atmosphere to make it more like Thanksgiving giving. Invitations will be well come, it was stated.

Broadwell "Finally" Divorced.

Municipal, county, and state institutions find the Thanksgiving dinner less of a problem this year owing to a decreased "family circle," which is credited to prohibition.

Last year there were 1,300 prisoners to be fed at the bridewell and this year Superintendent Joseph Siman will preside over only 730. The dinner will follow a vaudeville show, in which women prisoners are to receive the treats of valets. The provisions, which come from the new farm near Joliet, include chicken, sweet potatoes, and celery.

Inmates of the Cook county hospital who are gastronomically disabled will be out of luck, as Superintendent Michael Ziegler has provided 1,400 pounds of turkey, the balance of cranberries, five barrels of sweet potatoes, 500 pounds of mince meat, lettuce, and celery. No special program has been arranged, but Sunday visiting hours will be observed.

Band Concert and Movies.

A hand concert and the movies have been arranged to stimulate consumption of 5,000 pounds of turkey at the Cook county infirmary.

Inmates of the Chicago state hospital for the insane will eat roast pork and have a dance.

Men of the municipal tuberculosis sanatorium will be given a vaudeville show.

"No time for entertainment here," said H. O. Hilton, superintendent of the state industrial home for the blind. "Dinner will be the big thing—turkey and everything."

County agents under Chief William H. Shennan have made provision for 4,200 families, but report that appeals for help are not as numerous this year as last.

GET 'CRIME BAND' CONFESSTION TO FIFTH MURDER

A fifth murder was charged to the criminal band now in custody of the police when First Deputy Alcock announced yesterday that a supplemental confession had been obtained from one of the men. The name of the victim is withheld while additional arrests are made.

Detective Sergeant John Norton of the homicide squad said that when the police had completed their investigation of the band's operation more than a dozen murder mysteries would be solved. These include blackhand shootings as well as holdup victims, he said.

Besides the five murders already admitted, members of the band have confessed to 100 holdups of saloons, poolrooms, and pedestrians, and 150 house burglaries. Samuel Cardinella, alleged to be the original leader of the band, is still in custody, but will not talk.

Furs valued at $4,700 were taken by men who robbed the fur store of George B. Friend, 1282 Milwaukee avenue. Goods valued at $9,000 were taken from the electrical shop of R. B. Rubloff, 2256 Wallace street.

NEW UNIFORM IN SIGHT FOR 'HERO'

Men May Provide Only
'Social Life' for 'Ace of Fakes.'

Glory Cullen Chapman, Chicago's crashed again yesterday. This time federal authorities promise that the bogus hero, who escaped from court martial in France, elected himself captain and leading "ace" of overseas flyers and came home to bask in the limelight as a social lion with his breadth of self-conferred medals, is in the permanent discard. His appeal for clemency in the District Court of Appeals has been denied. In court martial he had been reviled, and he faces a two-year term in the federal penitentiary on the court martial sentence pronounced in France for improper handling of battalion funds.

Lodged in Guard House.

Chapman was picked up yesterday at orders from Major General Leonard Wood and lodged in the Fort Sheridan guard house pending his probable removal to Fort Leavenworth.

Colonel Attorney Charles F. Clyne claimed that the revoking by Washington of the highly complimentary discharge which the bogus captain had obtained in a demobilization camp after saving good his escape from France had automatically rendered him to military jurisdiction with his court martial sentence still standing.

In addition to the overseas sentence, military authorities expect to lodge the charge of fraud against him to stand up for the $1,500 he collected from the government while masquerading as an "ace" in Chicago.

"The Most Brilliant Fake."

"The most brilliant fake hero of the demobilization period is down and out for good," declared Mr. Clyne. "He will have plenty of time to dream his noble dreams now in the penitentiary."

After Chapman's arrest by military intelligence agents in April and his confession that all his heroics were fake, he entered the federal court of Judge George T. Page and through Attorney Charles E. Erbstein pleaded for a release from military custody on a writ of habeas corpus. The plea was denied and was appealed. Chapman has his release on bond.

Be Truly Thankful

We are thankful for there coming to us an occasional season in which our thoughts are turned towards the more substantial virtues of our civic, national and personal life.

It is well that we should individually and collectively respond to the call for the realization of those fundamentals of life that should make us thankful.

The "Great Thankfulness" is born of the faith and knowledge that he who gives most receives most. There is no selfishness in true thankfulness.

Let us find full expression at this season in thankfulness for the Peace which is displacing strife. For all noble and brotherly ideals which possess us. For the inheritance of those principles of government and personal relationship that have preserved to us this Thanksgiving Day, and the thankfulness for the hopes of future greatness born of virtue and good will among men.

5,000 plants are prepared—is yours?

IN December, when day-light is poorest, over twice as many industrial accidents occur as in June, when the days are longest. The Statistical Chart above shows this clearly.

All superintendents and foremen have seen how fatigue, carelessness and accidents increase among their workmen as light grows dimmer.

In buildings where light is imperfect workmen constantly strain their eyes. To see clearly they must bulge the lens of the eye. That means continued nervous strain and unnecessary fatigue.

Fatigue, due to imperfect light, causes far more damage than accidents. It breeds quarrels and discontent—increases spoilage and reduces output.

Getting 19 to 36% more daylight

Today 5,000 plants are combatting the evils of poor light and fatigue by utilizing all their daylight. They are increasing their daylight 19 to 36% by using Barreled Sunlight, the Rice Process Mill White.

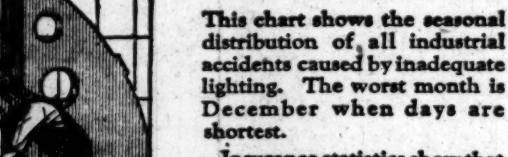

Barreled Sunlight is an oil paint with a high gloss finish like white tile. It reflects and diffuses all the light that comes in through the windows. It does not absorb a part of the light nor collect dirt like ordinary "flat" finish paints.

PRO FOOTBALL LOOMS AS DANGER TO GREAT COLLEGE GAME

MONEY MAY LURE STARS FROM BIG VARSITY TEAMS

Students Liable to Be Tempted by Large Pay Offered.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
With professional football taking a grip hold on the public and indications pointing to the formation of a league similar to baseball, college authorities will have to take drastic action in the near future to save a game which bears distinctly to the educational institutions.

If professional football has as much success next fall as it enjoyed during the last season, the colleges will be the best feeding grounds for the professional leagues. Some of the players may be induced to leave college before their careers are ended to play pro football and many promising high school players will join the pro ranks instead of going to some university or college.

"Pros" Offer Inducements.

Those in charge of the professional teams are in positions to offer inducements which are tempting to the average football man. A majority of the athletes come from the farms. In a number of cases they leave their universities and school and earn all the money possible.

In this manner they work out of their tuition, but there is seldom any large change left over.

When a student develops into a football star, managers of the pro teams do not hesitate to offer him as high as $100 to play one game. This is tempting.

The player is told he can be signed under an assumed name and one day he will discover his identity.

Cheating News.

In the east it is a common occurrence for members of certain teams to play秘密 games on Saturday and then go to a rattle to play with one of the professional teams in Ohio on Sunday. When the athletic authorities at the institutions know their players are making money playing pro football it is known, but if they intend to make pretenses and pretend amateur football, they should investigate.

A little investigation by the western conference would not do any harm. There are so many teams playing in remote places that a well known player can easily slip out of town, play under an assumed name, and no one will know the difference. If one player does this others will follow, and the practice should be curbed as soon as possible.

Right Allow Summer Ball.

With opportunities presenting themselves for football players to make money, a leading athlete in the nation, west of the Mississippi, the faculty committee should provide college men to play summer baseball for money, but draw a sharp line on professional football. He asserted the committee will have to do one or the other.

Football is a game which belongs only to the colleges. This is the last year, with a few exceptions, it has been played with any degree of success by the educational institutions. If the pro gridiron sport continues to flourish the college game will suffer accordingly.

Warner Against Pros.

In the east Otto Warner, the popular coach of the University of Pittsburgh eleven, is bitter against the playing of football by organized teams. He asserted everything possible should be done to discourage it.

According to Warner some of his old players who are now making good coin playing pro football do not put forth the best efforts unless there is money involved by the players on the result. In most cases the players of the opposing teams are more than willing to kick it hard and do everything possible to get the game over in a hurry. Unless the players have wagers on the result there is little incentive to play. The spirit of a college game is fading and the main thought of all is to cash in the pay envelope.

WISCONSIN STAR JOINS HAMMOND FOR GAME HERE

Paul Meyers, one of the greatest ends in Wisconsin football history, who closed his college career at the State in the Chicago game, will play left end for the Hammond All-Stars tomorrow in the game against Jim Thorpe's Can-Am Bulldogs at the Cubie park. The Badger player is in good condition and should be a tower of strength to the eleven.

Hammond will use practically the same lineup against Cornell as it did two weeks ago, when the teams battled to a 5 to 5 tie. Capt. Dee Jardine's team has mended and he will be in the fight from start to finish. Paddy Driscoll, the former Northwestern University and Green Lakes star, will play right half back and will be supported by John Barrett at the other half, with Falcon and Howard alternating at full back.

Thors Play Tornadoes in Grid Game Tomorrow

The Thors and Tornadoes will meet at Whitman & Barnes field tomorrow in their fifth annual football clash. They are old-time rivals, both teams being from Roseland. During the five years in which the teams have played on Turkey day, neither side has been victorious, each game ending in a scoreless tie.

BATTLE FOR MATCH WITH CADDICK

The match will be started tomorrow at 11 a.m. on the Caddick field. The main event will bring together the two local teams, the Caddicks and the Thors. The other is between the Thors and the Jordan. The winner will meet the winner of the Caddick-Thors game.

Students Liable to Be Tempted by Large Pay Offered.

MULE VS. GOAT

PREP ELEVENS HAVE BATTLES TOMORROW TO THRILL F. B. FANS

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

High school teams will succeed the college elevens tomorrow as purveyors of football thrills to the fans who follow the amateur game. Several games of keen interest are scheduled for various local fields, and two teams, Hyde Park and Lane, will make out of town trips.

The best prep clashes should result when St. Ignatius and Loyola academics clash at 2:30 o'clock at Loyola in their annual supremacy test.

Loyola holds the margin for past years, but has lost several stars through injuries. St. Ignatius, on the other hand, seems in top shape, being undefeated and eager to even old scores. The game should be as lively as the gridiron scrap as the prep fields could produce.

Crane to Play Alumni.

Crane will play its alumni, the lineup of the latter showing a number of noted names. The match will be staged at Foyt's field (Gunner park) at 10 o'clock.

The following are slated to play for the alumni:

W. Illinois freshman, 1917, and Hais, Illinois, ends; Vondras of Lake Forest university's champion 1917 team and Hargrave, Illinois, end; Haskins, Galesburg, Colgate, 1917, and Girardi; F. DECLARE WAR ON 'DRINK OF DEATH' THAT KILLED 24

City, State, U. S. Seek to Curb Wood Alcohol as Four More Die.

With Chicago's death toll from the use of wood alcohol as a beverage estimated at twenty-four persons since July 1, when prohibition became effective, the city, the county, and the federal government yesterday began a campaign to end both the sale and the consumption of the "drink of death."

Internal revenue agents were sent out to arrest every person who purchased more than a pint of wood alcohol for beverage purposes, and to gain evidence for revoking the license of every druggist guilty of sales.

City Seeks New Formula.

Health Commissioner Robert L. Morrison ordered the drug department of a store at Halsted and Twelfth street to discontinue the sale of alcohol, alleging three persons had died and two made ill by purchases there. He also appointed five physicians to work out a formula for denaturing alcohol so it will act as an emetic if taken internally.

Coroner Hoffmuth is announcing twenty persons had been killed by the "death drink" since July 1, asked Mayor Thompson to call a special meeting of the city council, that an ordinance prohibiting the sale of wood alcohol without an order from the health commissioner might be passed.

CHICAGO LAWYER TO SIT ON "LID" FOR WHOLE STATE

Reports of the early appointment of H. E. Howard, Chicago lawyer and former captain of the Blackhawk field artillery, as permanent director of prohibition enforcement in Illinois, reached Chicago yesterday from Washington.

Organization of state bodies under the recent prohibition enforcement act was announced recently when John F. Kramer, federal prohibition commissioner, with headquarters in Washington. The state organizations are to take over responsibility for keeping the country bone dry some time before Jan. 1, according to the federal officials, who now carry the burden.

Reports of Mr. Howard's appointment were not confirmed by federal officials here, but they declared early organization of a permanent Chicago "lid" organization is necessary.

Thirty-five moonshiners faced the federal grand jury and three more were arrested during the day. Whole sale indictments are expected.

Declares Habit Grows.

In connection with the government campaign G. G. Dunlap, chief of the internal revenue service, received a report that some druggists had been selling as much as $10,000 worth of the "drink of death" daily.

"The habit is growing alarmingly," declared Chief Dunlap. "Hundreds of old timers have learned they can get a 'kick' from wood alcohol and other medicated forms, and are killing themselves with it."

"Revenue agents will advise drugstores to make every purchaser swear it is to be used only for a legitimate purpose. Then we can go into the homes of purchasers, and if they are drinking the alcohol, prosecute them for conspiring to defraud the government of beverage taxes."

PRICES OF GRAIN UP IN FACE OF BEARISH NEWS

Advance Reveals Hidden
Force on Buying
Side.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Higher prices for grain were made in the face of bearish news, which cost traders who followed it considerable money.

At no time were corn values as low as on the previous day, while the close was at the highest. Action of the market showed what corn can do when it is ready to advance. It also demonstrated that some hidden force is at work on the buying side the same as it had been on the previous upturns. The latter was gained 40¢ to 50¢. Yesterday, oats gained 40¢ to 50¢. They came in for more trading and gained 40¢ to 50¢ higher. Kansas City deferred futures leading. Oats there were 40¢ to 50¢ higher, and in Minneapolis the latter gained 40¢ to 50¢, and in Winnipeg they were up 40¢ to 50¢.

Corn in Strong Close.

Sentiment in the market had been considerably, and while gains in the local side market had been the short side, there made little headway in depressing prices. Except for a reaction of about 1¢ around noon due to slightly overbought condition, the upturn was firm throughout the day and at the top May was up 50¢, never the inside figure of Saturday to the highest price since Nov. 8.

The persistent buying of all kinds of cash grain by eastern exchanges, especially of rice, had considerable influence about the recent upturn. Several strong commission houses were active buyers, but the upturn was checked around $1.25 by selling on resting orders.

was a conspicuous seller of December and May, taking profits, but the offerings were readily absorbed.

A report that financial conditions in Europe were not so bad during the month of October, and that the holdings of German marks was responsible for the reaction from the top, but toward the close prices started upward again, and December finished at $1.325; January, $1.25; May, $1.225, and July $1.275.

Longs Demand December Oats.

Liquidation of December on all hard spots by a house credited with being the largest long served to prevent any material upturn in oats. There was also a good class of buying of May by houses with eastern connections and the underscore was very firm.

It is a factor. The best buying of December was a cash house, which sold May against it at 50¢ difference. December finished at 75¢, May at 77¢, and January at 73¢.

Seaboard demand for cash grain was good, with sales of 25,000 bushels here, while the New England trade took 23,000 bushels. Receipts, 60 cars, with sample values unchanged to 10 higher, cash gaining slightly in the future. Country offerings light.

Cash Eye Sold to East.

Demand for cash eye, from the seaboard, previously in winter, storage continued on a fairly liberal scale, and while considerable quantities of futures were exchanged, no figures as to the total were given out. Increased speculative buying was a feature, and the close was 30¢ to 40¢ higher. No 2 spot sold at $1.475 to $1.48, or 40¢ over December. Receipts, 3 cars.

Medium and low grades of barley advanced 10¢ to 12¢, while others were unchanged. Receipts were after all here, and here and bought 55,000 bushels. Spot sales were at $1.36 to $1.51. Receipts, 30 cars.

Little Pressure on Lard.

Despite the largest supplies of hogs this year, 24,000 in and 14,000 left over, made, 85,000 hogs on sale, prices for cured product advanced and closed higher. Selling pressure was light and fair buying by commission houses was on early and again at the last. Most of the trading was in lard with limited business in ribs. Packers were credited with selling lard moderately at the close. Shipments of cured meats were $42,000 lbs, against 2,554,000 lbs last year. Lard, 2,456,000 lbs, against 4,754,000 lbs last year. A WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

That there is a stronger undertone to the corn market than has appeared on the surface is apparent by its action of late.

Prices have advanced 6¢ for May in a week in the face of increased receipts and other bearish factors. A majority of the trade have been wrong, and are likely to remain so.

A trader who has believed in corn all along, says those who have been active on the bear side forget that the price declined 6¢ from the recent high point because of the big crop, yet they want to sell it still lower.

Everything else is higher, with no immediate prospects of a decline, and why should corn be expected to decline under such conditions?

Western Iowa has a great deal of corn, and farmers are selling more freely there than in any other section. The extent of the movement there is a question of cars. With primary receipts yesterday 316,000 bush, compared with 568,000 bu last year, the better part of the market is in the hands of cash houses with western connections, especially around Omaha, having about all the grain distributed of which is advanced.

The oats have passed into new hands, the distribution being wider among cash houses who were short and have sold the May against them. Some of the shorts have gone over into May at 3¢ to 4¢ difference the past two days.

Local longs very friendly to the buying side of the market.

May has picked up a great many oats of late, and the impression in certain quarters is that oats are about due for a fair sized bulge.

It is understood that the large holdings of December corn and oats held by houses with western connections, especially around Omaha, have about all the grain distributed of which is advanced.

WANTED-MALE HELP.

Salesmen, Solicitors, Etc.

SEVERAL GOOD LIVE TRAVELING SALESMEN TO INTEREST THE WHOLE-SALE GROCERY, PRODUCE AND CONFECTIONERY TRADE IN OUR LINE OF SOFT DRINKS AND SYRUPS. APPLICANTS MUST BE CAPABLE OF HANDLING SPECIALTY MEN IN SELLING CAMPAIGN. WANT AMBITIOUS YOUNG MEN WHO ARE ASSURED OF ADVANCEMENT. IN ANSWERING GIVE FOLLOWING PARTICULARS: NATIONALITY, AGE, SALARY EXPECTED, NAME OF PRESENT OR LAST EMPLOYER AND LINES HANDLED PREVIOUSLY. ADDRESS H C 871, TRIBUNE.

SALESMEN—ESTABLISHED CONCERN OF NATIONAL REPUTATION, increasing its sales by 50% in the past year. The line is well known on the market for its quality. Known, because of extensive advertising, to be considered the best. Good opportunities for sales for others. It is not necessary to be a man and can be a woman. It is absolutely required for an accessory salesman for a man to be a buyer. To a right man, we will offer a "PLUGGER" on either a commission or a commission basis with no interest charged. Address phone number. Address X T 350, Tribune.

SALESMEN, CAN YOU SELL?

Answer this truthfully to yourself before you call on me. For a couple of salesmen, you can earn $500 to $1,000 per month. If you succeed, we will give you a commission. Good starting salary. If you are a man, we will give you a promotion for good men. We offer a good opportunity for advertising. Call me at the hours of 10 and 3. F. A. ROBERTS, Room 312, S. Madison.

SALESMEN. REAL ESTATE.

OUR NEW SUBDIVISION, combined with COLONIAL GARDENS will be with wind seller. We have more salesmen at once; full or part time, to meet the needs of the newest division. The best men are wanted. Start now with a good promotion for good men. We offer a good opportunity for advertising. Call me at the hours of 10 and 3. F. A. ROBERTS, Room 312, S. Madison.

SALESMEN.

SALESMEN—THAT IS A SALESMAN AND NOT A SALES TAKER; a man who can sell and that commands respect, you will get results. We are dominating the market with a large force of salesmen. Start now with the best men. We want you and you want us, as the best opportunity for advertising. Call me at the hours of 10 and 3. F. A. ROBERTS, Room 312, S. Madison.

SALESMEN.

OF THE HIGHEST TYPE, who own their own cars and will leave for such men who are in an opening opportunity. Call me at the hours of 10 and 3. F. A. ROBERTS, Room 312, S. Madison.
